

AUSTRIAN WINE

WEINGUT STEININGER

Vineyards: 35 hectares (86.5 acres)

Varieties: 50% Grüner Veltliner, rest is Riesling, Muskateller, Sauvignon Blanc, Traminer, Pinot Blanc, Zweigelt, Pinot Noir, Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot

Wine Region Kamptal: The name Kamptal refers to the Kamp River. This pictures beautiful area is filled with culture and tourism, which are enhanced by the numerous Heurigen, wine taverns and Vinotheques. Grüner Veltliner and Riesling are the main varieties of the Kamptal region.

Wine Village Langenlois: The family-run winery is situated in Austria's biggest wine growing village, Langenlois.

Soil and Climate: Loess with gravel, dynamics between the hot, Pannonian plain in the east and the cool Waldviertel to the northeast, interplay between hot days and cool nights confers great aromas and vigorous acidity to the grapes.

Production: Grüner Veltliner represents over 50% of the production. Grüner Veltliner can be found in different styles, from a light summer wine to powerful and voluminous full bodied wines as well as dessert wines and our speciality - the sparkling wines which are produced according to the traditional bottle fermenting method.

Steininger Grüner Veltliner Kamptal DAC 2009

This is an excellent example of a typical Austrian Grüner Veltliner. A dry and fresh white wine with influences of green apples, grapefruit and lemon showing off trademarks of flinty mineral, citrus and tropical fruit. All this is underlined by the spice of white pepper and ripe acidity. A perfect every day white wine.

Steininger Loisium Grüner Veltliner 2010

Steven Holl - DAC Kamptal Reserve

Named after the architect who built the Loisium. The label shows the original blue print of the entrance building, cellar world and Spa Hotel. A single vineyard Veltliner with inviting fruit in the nose, exotic notes and fine ripe aroma of apples. The finish is complex and balanced with a long beautiful echo and the traditional white pepper.

Steininger Zweigelt Novemberlese 2009

This is a delicious and impressively concentrated Zweigelt which is one of the most important Austrian red grapes (think Zinfandel/Barbara). Its flavor of black raspberry is underlined by good acidity. It feels seamless and silky and the richness is beautifully supported by ripe, supple tannins and still a smooth long finish. A great value and a good summer red!

Steininger Burgunder Sekt 2008

Sparkling Wine – Sekt in the City Falstaff 91pts.
Rich yellow color; complex scents of marzipan, pears and bananas; Noble balance between the three grape varieties of Burgundy (Chardonnay, Pinot Blanc and Pinot Noir)
