

The International Wine Review

New Austrian Wine Releases

Here are two new Austrian wine releases from Klaus Wittauer (kwselection), one of America's finest importers of Austrian wines. These wines made of Grüner Veltliner offer drinking pleasure at highly affordable prices. Both are clean, crisp and fresh tasting wines that will pair well with fish and seafood.

Anton Bauer 2011 Gmork Grüner Veltliner Wagram ($12) 89+

Gmork is one of our favorite offerings from Anton Bauer. It is a lovely fruit forward wine with citrus and herbs on the nose followed by a crisp attack of sweet ripe fruit, good acidity, and minerals on the palate. What a flavorful entry level Grüner--and you can't beat the price!!

Steininger 2011 Young Kamptal ($11) 88

The 2011 Young combines Grüner Veltliner, Sauvignon Blanc and Muskateller. Pale yellow in color, it offers aromas of fresh green apple and exhibits a crispy mid-palate with high acidity and a long spicy finish. Only recently bottled, it is a delicious wine made for early drinking.

Importer: kwselection "Wine Wines From Austria" www.kwselection.com

Mike Potashnik and Don Winkler
International Wine Review
November 2011