Zweigelt

This is a traditional Austrian grape variety.
A very elegant wine, harmonious, filled with ripe black cherry and subtle mocha notes.
The palate features ripe deep fruit with a gentle smooth medium bodied mouth feel. The finish is long and has slightly spicy peppery nuances.
Austrian reds feature amazingly pure fruit flavors.

Zweigelt 2005, Donauland

If there were true justice in the universe, the mere availability of this wine would result in the instant evaporation of every drop of mass-market Beaujolais. Well made Zweigelt offers the same sort of open, juicy berry fruit as Beaujolais, but with deeper flavor, better structure, and none of the hollow artificiality that mars overly chaptalized wines. Zweigelt is a cross of Blaufränkisch and St. Laurent. Not only does it taste great, but it is also fun to say, and drinking it makes you better looking. 87 Michael Franz
