

Frizzante 2008

Pinot Noir Rosé

Designation: quality wine from the Neusiedlersee, in the Austrian region of Burgenland

Origin: grown in the Pannonian climate at the eastern side of Lake Neusiedl. The hot summer days promote optimal ripeness while the cool late summer nights preserve primary fruit aroma. The soil is sandy loam.

Vinification: after a short maceration period, Pinot Noir grapes were pressed to yield a delicate pink colour. Wild natural yeast ferment the juice, but it is not yet finished: the second fermentation brings the vivacious sparkle in the bottle. A corded cork tames this wine until its explosive enjoyment.
